

Dorothy Day

New Republic, 97 (December 28, 1938) :233-234.

Summary: Criticizes Catholic writers with certain anti-Semitic slant in their writings. Argues that Catholics are traditionally and spiritually Semites. Quotes Pius XI on the contradictory nature of being Catholic and anti-Semitic. (DDLW #65).