

Dorothy Day

Commonweal, 55 (April 4, 1952):690-691.

Summary: A review of Thomas Sugrue's book A Catholic Speaks His Mind. Praises the book's ecumenical efforts with Protestants and its criticism of Catholics. Finds the book's weak point in its ignorance of ecumenical movements , and its strong spot in defending the Catholic faith yet seeking unity with other non-Catholics. (DDLW #89).