

Dorothy Day

Interracial, 11 (March, 1938):44-45.

Summary: A story of a Black Catholic convert, Iola Ellis. Though discriminated against in both north and south, she enabled her nieces to receive a higher education. The story emphasizes the need for Black Catholic leaders. (DDLW #62).